

Ortec International's Online Privacy Statement

Our Mission

At Ortec International, Inc., we are dedicated to protecting your privacy and safeguarding your personally identifiable information. Ortec's mission is to consistently exceed our shareholders' expectations and we are committed to respecting your privacy and adhering to the principles of applicable data protection and privacy laws throughout the world.

General Statement

Ortec respects the privacy of visitors to our web site. This privacy applies to any information provided to us via our web site. Ortec collects personal data, such as name, address, phone number, or e-mail address, only when it is voluntarily submitted to us. We collect this data in a database and may use it to contact visitors who have provided this data to us. We will not sell this information to anyone, nor will we provide it to third parties without our visitors' express consent, unless required by law, regulation or government agency. In addition, the employees of Ortec are committed to protecting the privacy of visitors who provide information to us.

Collection and Use of Information

We collect personal information through this web site only if it is voluntarily provided to us. If a visitor does not wish to provide the information requested on a given screen, or if he/she has concerns about maintaining the confidentiality of any information, we suggest that the visitor not provide the information. We will use this information for the purpose for which it has been provided to us, as indicated in the type of form that the visitor fills out and/or questions that the visitor answers. We limit access to information only to those individuals whose responsibility it is to address the visitor's specific request.

Ortec's web site also uses information in aggregate form to track numbers of visitors to our site and numbers of visitors to various sections of our site for the purpose of determining trends and visitor needs. Aggregate information is analyzed and used as input to help us improve our site. No personally identifiable information is available or used in this process. This site acts as a venue for information collected for a number of purposes specified by visitors. We have no control over the quality, truth or accuracy of information submitted by visitors, and undertake no responsibility for such information submitted. Each visitor is responsible for the quality, truth and accuracy of the information he/she submits. Each visitor authorizes us to use the information supplied for the purposes for which it was provided. We have no obligation to use or retain any of the information a visitor submits, and may delete or destroy the information. We may, for any reason, suspend or terminate a visitor's right to submit information to this site. We may change our Privacy Statement from time to time, and our changes are effective after we provide you with at least thirty days notice of the changes by posting the changes on our web site. We refer you to the section of this Statement, "Use of This Web Site," for further provisions that relate to this web site and its use, including but not limited to information provided by visitors, obligations of and indemnities by visitors, and limitations on our liability.
